MARCH 2020 – VOLUME 6

Connection Ubuntu provides computer labs to students and entrepreneurs in Africa.

Feeling Lucky?

The word luck is Middle Dutch in origin, coming from luc, a shortening of gheluc, "happiness, good fortune."

Does anyone have any contacts for schools/universities/hospitals in their IT departments for computer donations?

Remember nonprofits like CU count on your support more than luck:

March Madness

As we enter the month of March, several things come to mind:

- ◆ Spring's Arrival
- ◆ St. Patrick's Day
- ◆ College Basketball Brackets

So, for one of our trivia pieces this month, we wanted to highlight sports in Africa. Did you know that, while they may not have College Basketball Brackets and "March Madness," sporting activities occupy much of the African's mind and time? Some favorites include running, football (soccer), cricket, and rugby.

SPOTLIGHT

Daraja Training Center
Nairobi, Kenya

Dear Vicki,
I highly appreciate your support for our work at Daraja. It has taken long to deliver but now the lap tops are at the centre. Dan will work to connect them. with time i hope to connect WI-FI.

I have sent you some of the pictures taken by James and hope they show the activity.

Again we say thank you

Kind regards
Daniel

And the Need is Real...

We've had about ten (10) requests to help establish labs OUTSIDE of Kenya, another one in South Africa, and another ten (10) IN Kenya!

All requests are humble asks. So much need.

How can we meet these needs? How might you partner with us?

WE SOLD 27 BAGS OF COFFEE...
THAT'S A SUCCESSFUL FUNDRAISER!

and walking, walking everywhere!

Big 5 of Africa

Cape Buffalo

While on safari in Africa, there is always talk of seeing “the Big 5.” National Geographic TV aired “America’s Greatest Animals,” a program to see if there was a comparable list in America. Do you agree with the reviews?

Elephant

Leopard

Lion

Rhino

America’s Big 5

Polar Bear

Grizzly Bear

Moose

Wolf

Bison
